

COURTESY LISTING

Axel

Axel is a 4 year old male, inside dog who is very loving and playful. He currently spends too much time alone due to his owner working extremely long hours. Axel loves to go on walks, wonderful with children, would prefer to be an only dog but does get along with other animals. He would be perfect with a retired person, or someone who works from home. He likes getting outdoors so if your a hiker or just like to get out on the trails for walks, that's great also.

Axel just wants to be near you, cuddle up with you at all times. Loves belly rubs and to be spoiled and told he is handsome. Axel is a loving gentle giant as well as protector. I've never met a sweeter dog, he's just a love. Axel's breed is a blue pit and Cane Corso. He's on the smaller side for the breed, he's about 95 pounds.

Only people that are loving and who care about animals please reply. If you're interested, please inquire and you can meet Axel in person.

Thank you for your interest
