

COURTESY LISTING

Hello,

My name is Thor.

I met my soul-human December 27th (born approximately November 8th, 2024) when she saved me from munching on Cheezits at only 7 weeks old. She previously saved my little sister Athena as well. I love playing and cuddling. I don't understand how big I truly am (about 60 to 70 lbs. so far with lots of skin to grow) and I'm unaltered (rehoming fee to ensure neuter appointment/agreement).

I need a fenced yard as I like to jump over my 4ft fence for fun if I'm let alone outside. I have lots of energy but I also love cuddling. This is very hard for my hooman and she just wants someone to love me as much, if not more than she has (please no judgement).

I will come with a crate (crate trained and its a little bent up) and a slow feeder bowl and leash and collar. I use slow feeder bowls because I eat my food way too fast. I am not aggressive in any way. I've never bit more than to play with humans (kids 6 years and older) and with my sister. I'd rather have a friend or two because I get lonely. I also am scared of being on the leash and also car rides. Car rides make me very sick. I jump but can easily be redirected. I loves to learn but a lil' hardheaded!

Please help me find my furever home 🏠💕🐶🐶
