

COURTESY LISTING

Wild Kitty

Is there anyone out there who would like to give this beautiful, neutered, lovely mature (10 or so) guy, "Wild Kitty" a loving, safe home? He has essentially been abandoned across the lane from us, and the children of the property owners just want him "gone" 😞 I've cuddled and fed him every day for a year or so now and he is a gentleman and is apparently very healthy. He's living pretty rough and has been for years so I'm not sure if he's been in a house or how he is with other cats, but he is a mellow, even keeled guy. I LOVE this cat and want to see him in the right situation. If I could I would take him in immediately.

He must go to someone who will take time and care to get him to understand that he is now HOME. A safe, comfy sequestered place with a room with a window he can look out of, lots of love and good food for at least a few weeks - so that he doesn't want to try to wander back to the home where he has lived his whole life. He would surely die if he tried that. So I'll be picky. Please, may the right people save this beautiful life.
