Max

Max is approximately 1.5 years old. He is likely a Jack Russel Terrier mix. Max is about 15 lbs. with a thick wire hair coat. He is very playful and LOVES wrestling/playing with the other 13 dogs & 5 cats that call my multi-family rental property home. He is “getting” there with some basic obedience & is mostly house trained. Other male dogs in the house increases the chances he will mark his territory though & I haven’t been able to fully stop that behavior. He LOVES cats, chickens, and my goats and wants to play with them & doesn’t differentiate between animals that want to play & animals scared so they run away therefore monitoring his playtime is necessary. With my dog-friendly cats, he will wrestle and have fun, but with my cats that try to run, he chases. He does have some resource guarding issues.

Max would be PERFECT for a relatively active senior or single person household. He would also fit well into a household with confident humans who are knowledgeable about dog behavior & training, with no cats OR cats that enjoy dogs. I wouldn’t recommend a house with small children, as they couldn’t accurately read his body language, but older, confident kids raised with a bunch of dogs should be fine.

Max has had a vet exam & rabies shot (late last year), and I can give his 1st 5-way vaccine if requested, though he would still need his booster. He has been healthy & active the entire time living here. It will be sad to see him go but it's time he finds his forever home now.

Is anyone open to giving this incredibly sweet dog a chance? My landlords were patient, but they have expressed that he needs to be moving along by now & I cannot risk my living situation over a foster animal.

I can be contacted at 530 575 9019 (Cali). I am located off 49 between the Combie/Wolf & Lime Kiln stop lights.
