Maggie

Maggie the Pig is looking for a safe home to live the rest of her life. She is a sassy, hilarious and sweet giant. She will absolutely need time to get used to you but once she does she is an absolute delight. I spend hours watching her in her pen, I had her pen set up outside my window so I could watch her from inside. She likes to talk shit whenever she is hungry, and has escaped when she is hungry so she can forage on her own. She is normally pretty safe but NEEDS time to get used to people. She gets nervous as she has been raised by only one person. And knows her as the mother.

She is protective and can turn into a little rhino to be protective. When my husband first moved in, she charged him a few times but they became friends and he now, is super sad we have to re-home her. I raised her since the day she was born, bottle fed her and even had her Potty trained indoors. She even went on walks with me... Though, she is way to big for that now and has been outside for the last year. She loves her own little space. She is a food whore and loves belly rubs and chin scratches once you get to know her. It may take some time though!!!! If you haven't had pigs before, or ornery pigs, she wouldn't be recommended but if you really know pigs, she will be perfect. I worked on a pig farm and knew many, many pigs. And even though she can be ornery time to time, she is still the best pig I have ever met! She would do best in a home where she has her own space. She really is special and is filled with so much love and intelligence

Please, give me a text at 530.559.2603 if you are interested and I can give you more information about my precious baby, my name is Katrina.

I need her re-homed because I am pregnant and had to move and the land owners don't want a pig on the property, otherwise I would NEVER let her go!!!
