

COURTESY LISTING

Koda is spay female Husky, maybe 2 year old, with bright blue eyes, has all her shots, and lots of energy. I'm rehoming her because although she's really good with my small dogs she's what I would call heavy handed. She plays a little rough sometimes, she doesn't bite them but runs them over and I'm not comfortable leaving them home together without separating them. She's very sweet but she needs an active person or family because she has lots of energy. She's doggy door trained, passed her chewing stage but loves her toys, absolutely loves water, and chasing critters. She's not a barker but makes silly noises. I think she's about 50lbs, not so big. I'm hoping to find her a loving home that is active, she is so pretty and really sweet.

I live in Grass Valley and am willing to bring her to her forever home.
