

COURTESY LISTING

“MO”

Istmo or "Mo" is almost 8 years old. He is GREAT indoors, no chewing or excessive barking, loves men and is great with kids 10+. This guy will sleep in until 10 a.m. and loves the car. He is an avid cuddler, loves to go on walks and to hang out outside on a deck or lawn. He is OK with a crate as well and is used to being alone for hours on end and is adaptable. He has puppy energy still but he is not a puppy so you get the best of both worlds with him. His Mom is a full time teacher, on a budget and is not able to provide the care and the best environment for Istmo given his needs and will be moving to an apartment in San Francisco.

Istmo struggles with some dog aggression and he needs a kind, responsible owner. He is generally OK with female dogs, but due to some bad experiences is reactive towards Shepherds and large poodle mixes. He would do great as the only pet in the household. He is very patient and Ok with muzzles and Haltis. He is eager to please you, is food motivated and so he is receptive to training. He is unsure of the mailman and can have a hard time with people who walk with canes or hunch over. As all pitties, he needs a firm but kind owner and he is highly at risk of never being adopted again or rehomed if placed in shelter, but he is a good boy who with the right environment, a little outdoor space and some structure, could really thrive and be your best friend. He needs a second chance in the right home.

I am happy to bring Mo to whoever, wherever to meet them if there is interest.
