Aya

Aya is a spayed 3 year old Great Pyreneese. She and her sister have spent most of their lives living with and guarding our herd of 70 or so sheep. We recently had to get rid of our herd and now the girls are jobless. We had hopes of them remaining on the property as daytime greeters and nighttime protectors. Unfortunately the two of them together won't stay home and daily will go seek adventure at many of our neighbors properties and they've had enough. Aya is great with sheep, and probably the more nurturing of the two. She is also great with humans young and old, and gets along well with our other ranch dogs. I've seen her chase the barn cats when given the opportunity and unfortunately likes to eat chickens, a sad truth, but had to be told. She really is super sweet with people. We're hoping that someone could use her to protect their livestock, but still offer up some pets and atta girls at meal time. Or if you have good fencing, as a daytime greeter and nighttime protector.
