Sunday Needs A New Home

Sunday
Female
Spayed

Sunday is a medium hair, tortoiseshell calico. She was my mother's cat for 11 years before my father died and she could no longer have pets. We found her a home in Nevada City for the last year, but the owner contacted me 2 weeks ago refusing to keep the cat anymore. She is spayed, no medical issues, and up to date on her shots. She is currently staying in my spare bedroom until I can find her a home, or last resort, a shelter that has room. She is VERY sweet, and great with kids (my 3 year old can pick her up and cuddle with no objections) and dogs. I would love to adopt her but my husband is extremely allergic to pet dander, and she deserves a good home where she isn't confined to a small room.
